In special assemblies at Sunset and Carmel High School yesterday, winners in the Ford Industrial Arts International Competition for 1957 received their awards.

They are Karen Dawson, eighth grade, shown above holding part of a Honduran mahogany salad set made by James Lee, Carmel High School senior, who displays the bowl. Judy Arnot, high school freshman, holds a pair of laminated hickory skis made by Armin Jones, a junior now living in Oregon. Karen and Judy won awards for copper tableware (not shown.)

Karen is a student in Kenneth Wiese's Industrial Arts class, and Armin built the skis in the high school shop under the direction of Howard Byrne. Each received $20. James Lee's salad set was also made at the high school, and Judy's copper bowl was made at Sunset when she was an eighth grade student. They received achievement awards. Other students who entered the competition and received certificates of participation are: Hampton Stewart, Bob Leidig, Don Smith, 1957 high school graduates and Jerry Heisel, Jon Raggett and Pat Mosolf of Sunset.

Represented in the judging, which took place in Dearborn, Michigan, were projects selected from over 50,000 entries constructed in school shops in all parts of the United States, Canada, and other North American countries.

John Wolf, San Jose District Director of Industrial Relations for Ford, presented the awards in yesterday's assemblies.

All the entries will be displayed at Putnam and Raggetts from October 27 to November 3.

McHarry Retained In $65,000 Lawsuit Against Blue Bird

Attorney Charles McHarry, representing the owners of the Blue Bird Restaurant, will file a demurrer in superior court within the next ten days "to test the sufficiency of the complaint" of Local No. 483 of the Hotel, Restaurant and Bar Tenders Union against present and past owners of the Blue Bird Restaurant.

The union brought suit against the restaurant on October 8 for $65,150, claiming loss of employment of union members, $12,500; cost of picket line, $2,650, and general damages of $50,000.

Dispute arose in April when the Leidig Opposes Teacher Salary Increase; School Dist. May Have To Borrow

Carmel Adult School teachers got a 75 cents an hour raise Tuesday night when the school board voted 4 to 1 in favor of the increase. Glenn Leidig was the hold out. He wanted to wait "until the whole salary picture can be studied at once."

Mrs. Julian von Meier said that other salaries are to be studied for adjustment for next year. The adult school salary raise is for this year, and retroactive. State average pay for adult school teachers is $4.37 per hour. Carmel salaries, which were set in 1953, ranged from $3.25 to $4.00, an average of $3.75. The new range will be from $3.75 to $4.75, depending on qualification of teachers and their seniority. Monterey and Pacific Grove have similar range but their maximum is $6.00, Superintendent Stuart Mitchell said.

The increase will cost the district $4,750 over the amount budgeted for adult school instruction. It can be taken from undistributed reserve, Howard Reed of Reed and Heckenlaible, school financial advisors told the board.

Mr. Reed also reported that the school district would have to spend $34,000 more than it has in the general fund to keep in operation through November and December. Like all the other school districts in the county, it has run out of funds before the county can make new tax money available to it. The $75,000 sinking fund, set up by special tax voted by the citizens, is insufficient to carry the district through the "dry period". But, "We'd have been out of money two months sooner if it hadn't been for the sinking fund," Mr. Reed said. He thinks something can be worked out so that the

Kiwanis Announce Judges For Big Hallowe'en Party

Carmel Kiwanis Club is again giving the children of Carmel a Hallowe'en party on Sunset School baseball field starting at 7:00 o'clock in the evening on October 31, according to acting president Orville C. Rogers.

A $25 savings bond is being awarded to the wearer of the costume chosen as best by judges Paul McKinstry, the Reverend Angus Dun Jr. and Mrs. George Purvis, president of the elementary schools P.T.A.

Other prizes will be given the winner in each of four age classes starting with children up to three years old and continuing with age groups four through six years, seven through nine years and ten through eleven years old. Every child at the party will receive a balloon and a gift.

For the first time a hot dog and hot coffee booth will be run by Sunset School eighth grade students. The Kiwanis Club is providing the food and coffee and proceeds of the sale go to the eighth grade class fund.

Eugene Harrah is general chairman for the annual party.

'Everett' May Is Named To City Council

In executive session last night the Carmel City Council appointed Thomas E. May, Jr., to serve the two years, five months term of Francis Whitaker, who resigned two weeks ago.

He is the first Carmel High School graduate to serve on the city council and the only city councilman in the state who drives a red Volkswagen. He's known as Everett to old Carmel friends.

Mr. May is the son of Colonel Thomas E. May (U.S.A. Ret.) and Mrs. May of Carmel. Thirty-one years old, a bachelor, he lives on Santa Lucia between San Antonio and Carmelo and is a representative for New York Life Insurance Company. For five years he has been a member of the million dollar a year club—tops in insurance salesmanship. He organized the Radiological Safety Service Group, California Defense Office for the Monterey Bay Counties, is group leader and was instrumental in stationing the radiological monitoring trailer at Carmel City Hall. He attended the August atomic tests in Nevada.

Born in Honolulu in 1926, he and his sister Barbara (Mrs. Charles S. Johnson) were raised near army posts up and down the coast, wherever his father's military duties took him. He came to live in Carmel in 1940 when Col. May opened Fort Ord, just before Gen. Joseph Stilwell came out with the Seventh Division. A Carmel High School graduate, class of 1944, he worked his way through Stanford as fireman and electrician, graduating in 1950. After a period as research analyst for the Hoover Institute and Library at Stanford he was associated with the Fireman's Fund Insurance Company in San Francisco, "commuting" between Carmel and "the city." While he was making an outstanding success with his work, he also appeared as "super" with the San Francisco opera. "I can't sing much, but it was fun being associated with the opera." Though

COMMUNITY CHEST DRIVE PROGRESS

Carmel has reached 71 percent of its $29,000 quota, the highest non-military goal on the peninsula.

The residential district workers have turned in 90 percent of their quota, which is 25 percent higher than last year; Mrs. Stafford Hughes has done a fine job of organizing, her workers have shown wonderful spirit, according to Clifford Cook, general chairman for the Carmel Area.

Business District collections are coming along nicely; 57 percent of the solicitors have completed their work, a good showing considering the work has to be done when they can get away from their businesses. Lew Earl McCreery, chairman of the business area, expects that the collection will be completed by the end of the month.

Total collected from both business and residential, $20,226.

First Steps Taken For Valley Schools To Join Carmel Dist.

A movement is under way in Carmel Valley to circulate a petition seeking elections for annexation to the Carmel School District. Both Tularcitos and Carmelo School District parents are interested.

Jack Currier is chairman for the Carmelo committee; Charles Strathmeyer for Tularcitos, and Mrs. Hal C. Sherman is co-ordinator between the two committees. Malcolm Millard has been retained to manage the legal details.

Separate petitions will be circulated for each district; if 51 per cent of the registered voters sign, Gladys Stone, county school superintendent, will call elections and each district will vote separately. Decision as to whether Carmel will accept the districts lies with the Carmel school board.

It is not necessary for the Valley to obtain permission to withdraw from the Monterey High School District, either from Monterey, or the state board of education, the petitioners believer.

Schultz Land Use Approved, Hearings Set On Interim Ord.

Planning Commission simultaneous public hearings on three ordinances governing construction in the two business zones of the city (C-1 and C-2) were set for November 6 at 4:00 o'clock in the afternoon by planning commissioners meeting in regular session yesterday afternoon.

The public may at that time state whether the existing interim zoning ordinance should be extended, whether the same ordinance be modified adding open space controls, or thirdly, whether open space controls should be specified in the Municipal Code. (See legal on page 4.)

The Schultz apartment-motel building to be constructed on the former Bettie Greene Stables property in C-2 zone is a compatible land use in the area the Planning Commission decided yesterday afternoon. The provision of two-thirds off-street parking as demanded in the present zoning law is provided in the Schultz plans, but the commission will pass on this and the architecture of the 12 unit, two story building at their next regular meeting on November 20 after considering the two mat-

PADRES HOST GILROY MUSTANGS SAT. AFTERNOON
CCAL B-Division Football Standings

	W	L
Carmel	2	0
King City	2	1
Gilroy	2	1
Pacific Grove	2	1
Gonzales	1	2
Hollister	0	2
Live Oak	0	2

A crucial CCAL B-division football game is on tap at Carmel's Bardarson Field this Saturday afternoon when the Gilroy Mustangs come to town to test the high-flying Padre grid machine. Gilroy, fresh off a convincing 12-0 win over King City last Friday night, is the surprise team of the league this season and Saturday's game is rated an even-up affair. The Mustangs dropped their opener to Pacific Grove before their intricate spinner and man-in-motion offense was timed right but they looked to be the best in the league as they powered over Gonzales and King City. Coached by Red Elder, an Old Pro with plenty of college and professional coaching experience, the Mustangs employ a powerful single-wing offense which is something of a novelty in this age of T-formation football. The Gilroy squad is loaded with fast hard-running backs who can move the ball on the ground and the Mustangs have three passers in the starting backfield. Coach Elder's son, Mike, is the power back of the Mustangs and he is also the top passer on the squad. Speed backs Bob Liles, Bob Garcia, and Elbert Enos give the Mustangs one of the best balanced backfields in the CCAL. Up front, the Reyes brothers, Chris and Phil who tip the beams well over the 200-pound mark, give the Blue & White squad a solid anchor for the forward wall.

Carmel's high-scoring varsity hasn't been tested by the likes of Gilroy this season and the Red & Grey lads are anxious to find out what they can do against a good hard-hitting ball club. The Padres clipped a weak Gustine team, 38 to 12, beat the Monterey reserves, 45 to 6, outscored winless Live Oak, 48 to 12, and shut out Gonzales, 45 to 0, in a first-half scoring rout. In none of these games did the Padres line receive enough competition to give opposing backs a chance to get running room. Saturday's game will match two even lines with Gilroy's backfield enjoying a considerable speed edge and Carmel's backfield having a shade more power.

Carmel's offensive platoon will be manned by Pat Harney and Bill Hicks, end; Fred Nelson and Hal Gregerson, tackles; Mal Burdis and Neil Giarratana, guards; Parker Pollock, center; Ted Smith, quarterback; Andy Gray and Tim O'Shea, halfbacks; and Bob Goldwater, fullback. The defense will go with Alf Anderson and Art Wilkerson, ends; Norman Colman and Phil Durbrow, tackles; Captain Joe Mason and Al Eaker, guards; John Morse and Parker Pollock, linebackers; Dennis Peavey and Bud Conroy, halfbacks; and Ted Smith, safety.

Carmel's undefeated junior-varsity team meets the Gilroy jayvees in a 12:30 preliminary tussle which should provide some interesting football. The Little Padres have clobbered Live Oak and Gonzales in their two league games this season and rate a big edge over the winless Pony team from Gilroy. Coach Fred Rainer plans to open hostilities with a sturdy starting unit of Jamie Holman and Andy Elliot, ends; Chris and John Wilkin, tackles; Doug McClurg and Van Treat, guards; Harrison Hilbert, center; Craig Smith, quarterback; Chips Wood and Pete Willcox, halfbacks; and Mike Marquard, fullback. In four games this season, the Carmel jayvees romped over Gustine, 27 to 0, dropped a close decision to the Monterey lightweights, 18 to 12, dumped Live Oak, 61 to 0, and powered by Gonzales, 33 to 6.

Saturday's game is Home-coming Day at the Padre campus, replete with a Football Queen, halftime ceremonies, and the usual trimmings which go with a football festival.

FLU MANCHU BEATS CARMEL AND HOLLISTER

An outbreak of the Asian influenza at the Hollister High School forced a postponement of last Friday night's league football game scheduled for the Hollister gridiron. Hollister's varsity was hit hard by the flu bug and it is doubtful if the Haybalers will be able to go through with their game at Morgan Hill tomorrow afternoon. Besides the Carmel-Hollister game, Gonzales and Live Oak were idle because of sickness at the Live Oak campus. This is the second postponement for the Live Oak squad, the Acorns having missed a date with the Pacific Grove Breakers.

The Carmel-Hollister game has been rescheduled for Saturday, November 16 at the Hollister stadium and the Gonzales-Live Oak has been reset for Friday, November 15 at Gonzales.

Schwabacher, Axup, Symphony Soloists For Nov. 4 Concert

James Schwabacher, tenor, and Joseph Axup, French horn player, are the soloists appearing on the program of the first Monterey County Symphony Orchestra concert this season at 8:30 o'clock on November 4 in Sunset School Auditorium.

Director Gregory Millar and the orchestra open the program with Beethoven's Seventh Symphony. The Mozart horn concerto No. 3 with Joseph Axup follows. James Schwabacher is singing two tenor arias from Mozart's opera The Magic Flute and one from von Weber's Die Freischutz, accompanied by the orchestra.

In honor of the Elgar centennial this year the orchestra is presenting this composer's Enigma Variations at the first concert. Also on the program is De Falla's Three Cornered Hat music.

James Schwabacher has been a featured soloist with the Bach Festival for many years and last summer sang the tenor role in St. Matthew's Passion. He has appeared as soloist with both the San Francisco and Portland symphonies and is well known to West Coast radio audiences. This season he is scheduled for 17 televison programs on Station KQED in San Francisco.

Joseph Axup is a regular member of the County Symphony. He also is orchestra manager and teaches music in the Gonzales public school system. Last summer he was a member of the Bach Festival orchestra and chorus and played the French horn in the Gabrieli horn concerto. He is playing on November 4 under director Gregory Millar's policy of encouraging local artists of outstanding talent to appear as soloists with the Monterey County Symphony.

Right-to-Work Defense Fund

Forty-eight hours after the Carmel City Council decided to delay consideration of a Right-to-Work Ordinance, Local 483 of the Hotel, Aestaurant Employees and Bartenders' Union entered suit against the Blue Bird Restaurant in a further attempt to force workers in this establishment to join the union against their wishes.

There is a strong feeling in Carmel that we should do what we can to assist the Blue Bird in resisting this legal pressure.

In response to this, a Right to Work Defense Fund has been established, to which the more than one thousand, signers of the recent Right to Work petition and others may contribute.

Nan Merriman's Voice More Satisfying Than Her Choice Of Songs

BY EBEN WHITTLESEY

A brilliant mezzo-soprano assisted at the piano by an old friend of Carmel, opened the Carmel Music Society series last Thursday to the sound of resounding applause. Nan Merriman is a versatile singer, whose voice was rather slow to emerge in its real beauty. As the evening wore on we began to realize the splendid quality of her vocal instrument and the excellent control in which it is held.

Ralph Linsley, an integral part of the Carmel Bach Festival for many years, accompanied Miss Merriman with distinction and added a fine group of solo piano numbers. He has toured with Miss Merriman for some years.

The singer's first group included love songs by A. Scarlatti and Mozart. They disclosed a clear and flexible voice but its resonance was not apparent until a later group.

Songs by Chausson comprised the second group, providing a fine study in the art of this composer and a broad field for the artist's powers of dramatic interpretation. The piano accompaniment of these songs is very interesting, but the less one knows about the content of the poems the more he can enjoy their interpretation in song. Most of the songs belong to a certain anemic and enervated tradition of French love poetry which is not able to survive the test of time nearly as well as the music it inspired. One song of the group, Dans le Foret du Charme et de l'Enchantement, provided some contrast, being full of lively motion and showing a fine light quality in the artist's upper register. Chanson Perpetuelle was vigorous and well dramatized.

There followed another group of French songs, these by Debussy. These were a little too closely related to Chausson for my taste, but were well chosen to show both the voice of the artist and a side of Debussy quite removed from the impressionistic genius of the well known orchestral tone paintings such as La Mer and Nuages. These were colorful songs, peopled with flesh and blood characterizations as in the case of Femmes de Paris and the encore from Fetes Gallantes.

Following the intermission Mr. Linsley played a fine group opening with Bourre Fantasque by Chabrier. This fresh and typically colorful work was played with considerable restraint. This was followed by a warm and colorful Ravel composition in the manner of Chabrier, the group concluding with Debussy's charming and spirited Minstrels. The music was well chosen in its relation to the vocal program and was played with Mr. Linsley's characteristic clarity and sensitivity. It is a pleasure to hear him play something besides Seventeenth Century music.

Miss Merriman returned to sing a Spanish group which was particularly interesting because one does not hear these songs very often. They lie well in her voice, particularly the second number Las Locas Por Amor which was a wide open and swaggering song with big free tones, showing a vocal quality of which I should like to have heard more during the evening. This group ended with Polo, a colorful love song, by Nin, in a colloquial form of the Eighteenth Century, yet strangely reminiscent of Flamenco music.

As a final group Miss Merriman sang several Irish songs, presenting interesting variety and change of pace, but hardly a thrilling climax to the program. This type of music often provides an opportunity for an artist to display her dramatic gift from the point of view of musical content.

The listener expects a program of vocal music to reach a peak of artistic significance and emotional intensity shortly before its close, rather than to end with relatively unimportant music. Most interesting of the last group to me were Bid Adieu, words and music by James Hoyce and Romance a poem by Robert Louis Stevenson. The latter was an encore and was followed by an appealing song by Poulenc. Altogether the evening brought forth a good deal of seldom heard program material, but not as satisfying an exposition of the artist's powers as I had hoped to hear.

HOME AND GARDEN MEETING

How to use the simplest materials to make dried decorative arrangements will be the subject of a talk to be given by Mrs. Frances Wallace to the members of the Carmel Woman's Club at the house and garden meeting Monday. Mrs. Wallace will stress arrangements for Hallowe'en, Thanksgiving and Christmas. She combines seed pods, dried weeds, grasses and exotic materials with driftwood and tropical containers, and one of her arrangements will be used to decorate the tea table. She will explain what materials can be used, where to find them and how to prepare them, and will also go into the subject of driftwood sculpture. Mrs. Wallace's interest in collecting dried California decorative materials was developed on mountain hikes with her children while on camping trips.

After the program tea will be served, Mrs. George K. Meyer and Mrs. Elsie Miller pouring.

Clothes feel softer... smell fresher when they come out of an automatic dryer

Dryer owners often ask if it's just imagination or does their machine really get laundry fluffier and sweeter smelling. The answer is definitely yes . . . an automatic dryer leaves clothes 30% fluffier than line drying. Built-in ozone lamps give your clothes a hygienic, fresh-air fragrance that even the sun can't beat. And remember: an automatic dryer costs you just a few pennies a load to operate because natural gas and electricity are cheap in California.

Here comes winter...buy now...save

The Time Has Come .

by Kippy Stuart

I have had two thrills this week. The convention of landscape architects met in Monterey last week end and of all the brilliant and wonderful people ever gathered together, this topped them all. The two organizations most prominent were The California Council of Landscape Architects and the California Institute of Landscape Architects. I had a double privilege of having as my houseguest Glenn Black, editor and publisher of the magazine Landscaping. Mr. Black's magazine is published in Long Beach California and is proving to be a much needed publication and greatly appreciated by all gardeners.

My second thrill came from the California department of Fish and Game, in Sacramento. For years we have struggled against deer depredation, and those of us who truly love the little creatures have despaired of protecting our gardens from the "nibblers". There are certain chemicals that purport to repell deer nibbling, yet none of these chemicals have proven completely effective. I for one, have been hesitant to use these chemicals for fear of injuring our wild life.

Now, from the Fish and Game department has come a long list of flora that purports to discourage deer damage. The circular warns that no plant can be adjudged absolutely safe, yet after years of survey, the Department has compiled a list of plants that have stood the test. Yet one never knows when one might come across a deer that is an "epicurean" and an "individual", scorning the usual deer food, preferring delicacies probably on this list.

Our hedges have been difficult to maintain and in Carmel Valley I have seen a hedge that was literally bitten to earth. The Fish and Game Department has listed simple bamboo as a deer resistant, and since bamboo is one of the easiest shrubs to grow, there we have one answer. The pittosporum family has also been recommended; Scotch broom, matilija poppy, magnolia, choisya, escallonia, fuchsia, holly, leptosporum, and on . . . on, . . . far into the night.

Since all of these plants grow lavishly in this locality, we have a broad selection of flora at hand. One of our best ground covers comes from the ceanothus family and Ceanothus impressus is one of the most beautiful of them all. Carpenteria is a native California shrub, a lordly bush holding sprays of fragrant white spring blossoms that are delightfully fragrant.

Now listen, everybody, if you plant any of these named shrubs and some "epicurean" deer-fellow makes of it a meal, don't you come to me with your refutal! You go to the big boys in Sacramento, for after all, I, too, am a struggler in this deer resistant business!

FIRST TRIP TO NEW YORK

Kerman Alderson is back at Nielsen Bros. after a vacation in New York City. He and his wife Marie flew East and stayed with Mrs. Alderson's relatives while they explored the city. It was Mr. Alderson's first visit to New York and he found plenty of "sights to see" during the month he and his wife were away from Carmel.

Tuesday evening at 8:00 o'clock in Sunset Auditorium the Monterey Peninsula Audubon Society and the National Audubon Society put on the first Screen Tour of the eleventh local series.

Bert Harwell, a resident of Berkeley, opens this series with the only United States Tour of the season. His Forgotten Country is that part of the West which trains, and most autos, cross at night to escape the heat and "dreariness"; that huge area between the Rockies and the Sierra, a "never, never, land" to most people. Harwell brings it alive with intimate shots of its native fauna and unrealized beauty of its scenery.

Besides being a photographer, Bert Harwell is an imitator of bird calls and a raconteur.

There will be dinner for the speaker at Holiday Inn, Bay View and Martin Way, Carmel Point, preceding the Tour. Those wishing to attend may make reservations by calling the Inn, MA 4-6433.

POLIO CLINIC IN MONTEREY NOV. 12

A polio clinic will be held on November 12 at 550 Calle Principal, Monterey, from 9:00-12:00 o'clock in the morning and from 1:00-4:00 o'clock in the afternoon according to Dr. Myron W. Husband, director of Public Health for Monterey County.

Dr. Husband urges those persons who have had two shots to complete the series with a third, and those who have had one shot to get their second inoculation. A month or more should elapse between first and second shots and seven months or more between the second and third shots.

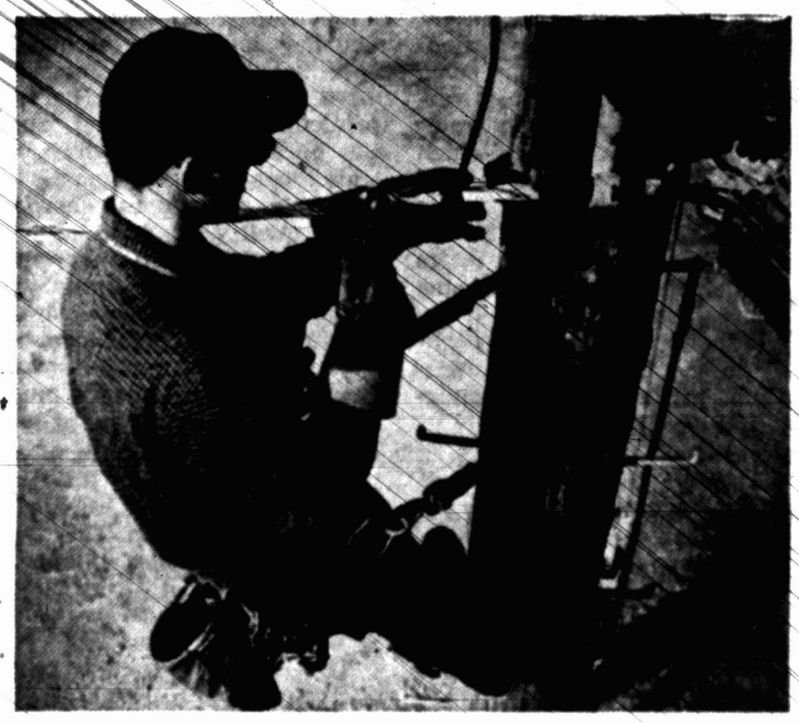
WHAT'S DOING

D. D. Muir, your Telephone Manager in Carmel



The way things are growing around here, we're plenty busy putting in more phones. So, we keep on the lookout for time-savers. Like the little "watchcase" this telephone man's working with. This case connects the wire from a house to certain types of telephone cables outdoors. Makes the job a whole lot simpler. The case has a clamp on the back. So you can put it where you want it in a jiffy. Inside, it has a couple of tiny posts. You tie your wires around them. Then, snap on the top—and the job's done. Takes about 5 minutes. Time-savers like this help us bring more service to more people. In less time, too.

When you hear air hissing out of an auto tire, first thing you do is find the leak and have it fixed. Same thing goes for some telephone cables. They've got compressed air in them. The pressure keeps out moisture. And believe me, we keep close tabs on this pressure, too. When air starts to escape, instruments let us know right away. They tell us just about where the leak is, too. That way we can patch it up before it affects your phone calls.

This young lady's got sun power—for her radio. That's a commercial solar battery in her hands which converts sunlight into electricity. The solar battery was invented by Bell Telephone Laboratories. Already, radio people are making solar batteries to power portable radios. And telephone people have been experimenting with solar energy as a possible future source of power for your phone calls. Pacific Telephone

REVOLUTIONARY NEW "SHOCK-ABSORBER"

GIVES EXTRA PROTECTION TO FRAGILE FREIGHT

Careful handling of freight has always been a prime concern of Southern Pacific. Four years ago we asked Stanford Research Institute to help us develop an even better way to cushion boxcar shipments of fragile freight. The result is something we're proud to report.

It is the Hydra-Cushion Underframe freight car, which employs a unique sliding underframe with a hydraulic pressure device to give extra cushioning to fragile shipments while cars are being coupled or are in transit.

350 Cars. We built 350 of these cars—and added "DF" (damage-free) interior loading equipment and roller bearings for good measure—to assure extra protection to shipments of television receivers, bottled goods, glassware, ceramic tile and numerous other fragile products.

The Hydra-Cushion Underframe freight car is an example, we think, of how Southern Pacific uses modern research in our continuing effort to give the finest freight service.

DESERT PROTECTIVE COUNCIL

Three years ago this month I attended the organization meeting of the Desert Protective Council at Palm Desert. Since that time the organization has made fine progress in its work of protecting the southwest desert country from various forms of commercial encroachment. This year my Assistant Western Representative, Joe Carithers, himself a former resident of the desert country, attended the annual meeting. Following is the report of his trip:

"After a picnic supper around a campfire, the business of the meeting got underway. The discussions pointed up the fact that desert conservation problems are becoming increasingly complex, due largely to the exploding population of the Southwest. With its healthful year-round climate, its scenic appeal, and the added impetus given light industry in recent years, especially in the development, testing and manufacture of aircraft and missiles material, these areas of the southland that looked terribly forbidding to the casual observer a few years ago have been developed into extensive subdivisions, shopping centers and delightful resort communities.

"Because of this modern-day gold rush, so to speak, the task of organizations such as the Desert Protective Council, which are waging a valiant struggle to retain as much of the natural beauty of the desert as possible becomes more and more important.

"The subjects discussed and acted on at this meeting indicate most clearly the scope of activity of the Council. There was a great deal of attention given the problems brought about by the need for more testing and bombing sites by the military. The desert land by its very nature is vulnerable to this sort of use. Already the Army, Navy, and Air Force have hundreds of thousands of acres for this purpose, yet they insist they need still more. The Engle bill, which would limit these withdrawals to 5,000 acres or less, without congressional approval, just barely missed passage in the last session of Congress. It is hoped that the bill will be passed next year.

"There was also an expression of grave concern over the increase in roadside advertising in the form of billboards. In many sections of southern California these are so numerous that motorists are denied the pleasure of seeing the vast desert panoramas with their mountain background. These billboards have given some of the desert's otherwise scenic routes a bad name and certainly give damaging impressions of our southwest. A strong resolution was passed against them, with copies ordered sent to the County Board of Supervisors in San Bernardino and Riverside Counties, to civic organizations and to newspapers.

"Also discussed at the meeting were: the proposed establishment of a wildlife sanctuary in the San Jacinto - Santa Rosa Mountains; resolutions pertaining to questionable exploitation of two of our national monuments; the increased use of fire-arms by irresponsible youngsters; and legislation concerning the protecting of smaller forms of wildlife.

"It is through the efforts of 'grass-root' organizations such as the Desert Protective Council that the real strength of the conservation movement lies. There can never be too many people doing this sort of thing. The real meaning of this kind of effort can be brought into proper perspective when we remember that these people, either as a group or as individuals, have absolutely nothing to gain personally for their work, except perhaps inner satisfaction. Their cause deserves the support of every American who loves his native land. We stand to lose much of our scenic heritage if we do not."

Laurel Hildebrand To Marry

On Sunday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock Laurel Dell Hildebrand, daughter of Mrs. Evelyn Nidever Hildebrand of Carmel and David N. Hildebrand of Carmel Valley, will be married to John Lombardi, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Lombardi of San Francisco, in the Church of the Wayfarer.

Carol Hildebrand will be her sister's attendant and Vincent Lombardi Jr. is to be best man for his brother.

Laurel and John, both members of pioneer California families, met in San Francisco. They are employed by the Emporium, Laurel as assistant buyer for the firm in San Francisco, and her future husband as manager of the shipping department of the Emporium branch in the Stanford Shopping Center. After their marriage they will live in Park Merced in San Francisco.

Laurel was a Carmel High School honor graduate before continuing her education at the University of California at Davis for two years. She completed her textile major college education at the University of California in Berkeley, then joined the Emporium staff. She also spent eight months in Boston working for a publishing house but returned to San Francisco and her buying position.

Unable to be in Carmel for his sister's wedding on Sunday is Mark Hildebrand as he graduates on Monday from the Air Force guided missile electronics school in Colorado and then will be sent to Massachusetts for further training.

Kris Native Carmelite

Mr. and Mrs. Harley Ludington didn't expect their second son Kris Tyler to be born in Carmel when they left Muncie, Indiana, two months ago. They were headed for Los Angeles where Mr. Ludington, a builder and engineer, had a job waiting for him. But after one look at the San Fernando Valley, which had drastically changed since the last time Mr. Ludington saw it ten years ago, both Mr. and Mrs. Ludington said "No" and came back to Carmel which they had discovered on their way south.

Now the Ludingtons, believers in individuality, are living in the house which they bought a month ago on Lazarro Drive on Hatton Fields Mesa. Mr. Ludington "has escaped racing to and from in a gray flannel suit" and their son Kris is a native Carmelite born at the Peninsula Community Hospital on October 16.

"We feel like native Carmelites," says Mrs. Ludington and the "we" includes the Ludingtons elder son, Link, three years old.

Altar Society Met Last Week

The Carmel Mission Altar Society met at the home of Mrs. Joseph Fratessa on Hatton Road last week. Mrs. William Coughlin assisted as co-hostess. Miss Genevieve Gehres, president, gave interesting reports on her attendance at the conference of the National Council of Catholic Women and the coordination committee for Catholic Organizations of the Monterey Peninsula.

Plans were made for the annual Thanksgiving gift of food for the Carmelite Nuns under the chairmanship of Mrs. John Fray.

The November 14 meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Joseph McCloskey, with Mrs. David Shipley serving as co-hostess.

World Community Day

Joining with the national organization in collecting relief clothing and household materials throughout the country, the Monterey Peninsula United Church Women will observe World Community Day on November 1, with a meeting at the new St. James' Church at 381 High Street, near the upper gate to the Presidio, in Monterey. First session is at 11:30 o'clock in the morning followed by box lunch at noon, and program at 1:30 o'clock. The hostess church will serve tea and coffee.

Bread, Freedom and Dignity is the day's theme, with Francis Heisler, lawyer of Carmel Highlands and Chicago, as guest speaker in the afternoon. The problems of many thousands of displaced persons in the refugee camps in Asia, the mid-East and Europe will be presented, problems which concern the United States as much as the other countries of the world and bearing directly on the questions of peace or war in the world. Mrs. Robert Hazelrigg of Seaside is chairman for the day, and devotions will be given by Mrs. Fred Benson of San Leandro.

For some days church women of this area have been collecting used clothing, clean and whole, mended if necessary, warm and durable, for all ages for distribution in the camps, with emphasis on men's work clothing, as the refugees are seeking work in the areas round the camps, or the opportunity to go to other countries for resettlement. Denim yardage for work clothes and materials for other clothing, and blankets and household linens are also needed. Contributions of materials may be taken to the three Protestant churches in Carmel, or elsewhere on the peninsula, not later than October 30. It will help in distribution if garments are marked for size.

Mrs. L. A. Larson of Pacific Grove is chairman of this Parcels for Peace, with sub-chairmen in the various churches. An offering will be taken to be used for self-help projects among refugees in Austria, Germany, Italy, the Near-East, and Southeast Asia. At the churches the clothing and fabrics contributed will be packed in large cartons for transportation to northern California Church World Service in Modesto for shipment overseas. For the past ten years or so, Monterey Peninsula trucking companies have been taking these relief collections free of charge to the C.W.S. warehouse. This national organization of churchmen has representatives in foreign countries who direct relief distributions there.

Visits Gene And Juliene

Mrs. Sam McFarland spent two days in San Francisco this week visiting her son and daughter-in-law Gene and Juliene McFarland. Gene is studying business administration at San Francisco State College while Juliene is employed in the trust department of the Crocker Anglo National Bank.

"The only course in which Gene has failed to get an A grade this year is in music appreciation", reports his mother, "so he and Juliene immediately bought tickets for the opera."

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERMON

Man's responsibility for spiritual growth and progress will be brought out in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Probation after Death" at Christian Science services Sunday.

Scriptural selections to be read include the following (Philippians 3:13-15): "Brethren, I count not myself to have apprehended: but this one thing I do, forgetting those things which are behind, and reaching forth unto those things which are before, I press toward the mark for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus. Let us therefore, as many as be perfect, be thus minded: and if in any thing ye be otherwise minded, God shall reveal even this unto you."

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will be read the following (291:12-13): "Universal salvation rests on progression and probation, and is unattainable without them."

The Golden Text is from James (1:12): "Blessed is the man that endureth temptation: for when he is tried, he shall receive the crown of life, which the Lord hath promised to them that love him."

CANAL, CURACAO, CARMEL

Mr. and Mrs. Bill O'Malley left San Francisco Wednesday on the Dutch freighter Diemerdyk for a leisurely trip through the Panama Canal to Curacao in the Caribbean. After two weeks in Curacao the O'Malleys will board the Swedish freighter Lion's Gate and return through the Canal to Carmel in time for Christmas. Stops on the way home will be surprises as the O'Malleys will "go where the ship goes and it may stop in Columbia or Panama or some other place," said Mrs. O'Malley before she left. "I am just going to be lazy," she continued, "but Bill works every day." Mr. O'Malley has cartoon deadlines to meet, it appears, even on a two months' sea trip.

county will honor the district's overdrafts. Nevertheless, the district attorney is preparing a form letter for the trustees to send out to the banks, asking for bids on short term loans at not more than six percent interest, just in case.

They approved expenditure of $1000 for a 1955 yellow convertible Cadillac for the superintendent's use. Mr. Mitchell purchased it for $225 on a surplus property lot. It had been confiscated in a narcotics case, had gone 16,000 miles; had "taken a beating" according to Mr. Mitchell. A piston had gone through a cylinder and the cam shaft needed replacing. It can be put in driving condition for about $800, he said. It is to be rebuilt at the Cadillac agency in San Francisco. The school nurse will have the use of the Oldsmobile the superintendent now drives.

The board authorized Superintendent Mitchell and Mrs. Edith Skillman to make purchases through the county purchasing department. This makes it possible for the Carmel school district to do its buying without advertising for bids.

Items concerning a ten year master plan and construction bond issue were deferred in view of a proposed merger of Tularcitos and Carmelo School Districts with the Carmel District.

The board, after hearing a report from the district insurance advisor, George Tomlinson, voted to increase its liability coverage from $100,000 per person to $500,000 per person, and continue its one million per accident, involving a premium increase from $1750 per year to $1920. They raised the bond on employees from $5000 to $15,000, with a premium increase from $291,35 to $471.63 for three years.

Since the new roof has been put on Sunset Auditorium, it is now possible for the district to get insurance coverage for earthquake, even though the structure is not in compliance with the Field Act. Lloyds of London would give $100,000 per person and $300,000 per accident for a premium of $475 per year, Mr. Tomlinson reported. The board decided to take a chance and passed up the offer.

"I don't think it will make much difference, but it won't do any harm," was Mr. Mitchell's comment regarding the suggestion that the secretary write a letter to the Regents of the University of California saying that the Carmel School District would welcome a four year college on the Monterey Peninsula. A new one is to be built somewhere between San Jose and Salinas.

Since the regular December board meeting date would fall on Christmas, December 17 was set; also, meetings will be held at 7:30 instead of 7:15 in the future.

Superintendent Mitchell reported progress in school construction. Woods new buildings should be ready after Christmas holidays, he said. The roof is on and siding completed, covered corridors are up and interior finish should begin this week. Laminated trusses are in place at River and framing and roofing are in progress.

Monterey College basketball team is to have the use of the high school gymnasium free of charge for a game after Christmas, on a date their regular gymnasium will not be available to them. This is a courtesy granted by the board because the college has allowed Carmel teams to use their football field under lights for night game practice.

The PTA-Girls League Scholarship Carnival grossed $2192, Mr. Mitchell reported. High School Principal Warren Edwards told the board that the Carmel Permanent Scholarship Fund has been awarded a booth at the SCRAMP races.

Chairman Gordon Campbell closed the meeting with a "thank you" to the people attending who represent community organizations and the district. The board appreciates their interest, and would welcome their suggestions.

"Everett" May Named To City Council

he has been a registered voter in Carmel since 1948, and was here frequently in connection with business for his San Francisco office, he didn't make Carmel his permanent home until 1955. Along with exceptional achievement in his business and his activities for civilian defense, he has won a modest success in local theatricals, playing in Golden Bough productions. He attracted considerable attention for his interpretation of the role of The Senator in a production last year. "My only political experience to date," he says.

"He's tremendously intelligent," Councilman Carl Patnude commented last night. "He has no experience in politics; neither did I when I came on the council, but his questions are right to the point. He's willing to learn. I think he'll do a good job."

Councilman James Buffington, Jr., says: "There are two reasons why I think he'll be good. He'll add young enthusiasm to the council, and he's an expert in civilian defense, which has been overlooked in Carmel. We're too complacent."

"They've often said we need young blood on the council. Now we have it," Councilman Allen Knight commented, adding that he had been impressed with Mr. May's organizational ability as demonstrated in his civilian defense work.

Mayor John Chitwood: "While we had many good possibilities, this young man had demonstrated ability through his public activities, particularly in his county-wide service for civilian defense. Though he is young, he seems to have a broad and tolerant outlook on civic problems and appeared to indicate he would fulfill those potentialities in actual service. Finally, I think he impressed all the members with the fact that he seems to be possessed with unusual abilities and capabilities, and it was thought these characteristics could be used to the advantage of the city."

restaurant changed hands. The union maintained that it had a contract with the former owners which was binding on the new proprietors, and put pickets on the restaurant, but withdrew them last month when a group of citizens presented the Carmel City Council with a petition to pass a right to work ordinance for Carmel, which would outlaw closed shop and picketing. The council postponed action.

Mr. McHarry, attorney for the Blue Bird, raises the question in his demurrer of whether it is in the capacity of the union to sue since it is an unincorporated association.
